Company Profile

Description	: PT Orindo Eratec is a member of the ORI Group, a company that has been active since 1992 as a provider of composite and FRP-based industrial products. Located in Tangerang, the company supplies a wide range of fiberglass-reinforced materials such as FRP gratings, cable trays, handrails, stairs, and pultruded profiles for various industrial applications. The company combines modern composite production techniques with a strong focus on durability, corrosion resistance, and long-term reliability. Its products are widely used across chemical plants, construction, engineering, manufacturing, and other heavy-duty environments where safety and material strength are essential. With a commitment to consistent quality, dependable supply, and technical support, PT Orindo Eratec continues to serve both domestic and international clients. The company aims to be a trusted partner by delivering solutions that are efficient, sustainable, and aligned with industry standards.
